ART EDUCATION CATALOG 2026/2027

Potential

So... here we are again. Or, for some of you, here we are for the first time. Fresh off slow, sun-filled days, dropped back into work mode and a new school year. A room full of possibilities. A head full of ideas. Maybe a few nerves. And probably a to-do list that got a little too ambitious while you were trying to relax.

The beginning of the year always feels full of potential. Maybe it's because we see possibilities where other people see a mess. Every year, students walk into your room thinking they'll learn about art. What many of them discover along the way is just how capable they are. Not just because they're learning how to draw, paint, design, or create. It's because art gives students something to wrestle with, like an idea that doesn't quite work or a problem without a single right answer. Somewhere in that wrestling match, they learn that frustration isn't failure, it's part of figuring things out.

You see it all the time. The student who starts the year convinced they "aren't creative" begins taking risks, and the one who gives up easily sticks with a project a little longer than usual. A quiet student finds a voice through their work while the class learns that revising isn't a sign something went wrong, it's where the best ideas begin.

Maybe that's why the art room feels especially important right now.

Students are growing up in a world full of instant answers, AI-generated content and constant noise. Yet every day, you ask them to do something different—slow down, look closely, and make choices. You encourage them to trust their ideas and create something that couldn't come from anyone else. This reminds students that some things are worth struggling through and curiosity matters. They discover that original ideas are important and unique perspectives are powerful. Of course, they'll leave your class with stronger artistic skills, but the bigger takeaway is confidence to take risks, solve problems, and try again when something doesn't work the first time. That kind of growth doesn't happen by accident. It happens because of the space you make for students to explore, experiment, struggle a little, and discover their potential.

At Davis, we know teaching art comes with a lot of moving pieces—planning lessons, managing materials, and meeting the needs of every learner. Our goal has always been simple—provide resources that are meaningful and genuinely useful in real classrooms.

Inside this year's catalog, you'll find:

- Flexible, standards-based curriculum designed around meaning.
- Lessons and visual resources connected to students' lives.
- Professional learning specifically for art educators.
- Relevant resources that support all learners.
- Digital tools for today's teaching environments.

Thank you for helping students discover that they have great potential. The confidence they build in your art room will stay with them long after the name of a project or technique is forgotten.

We're grateful to be together with you for another school year.

Julian Davis Wade, President

SECOND EDITION Grades 1-6 by Marilyn G. Stewart, Kindergarten by Cathy Weisman Topal

Sample this program!
DavisArt.com/Sample

Give students opportunities to investigate ideas, materials, and techniques. Explorations in Art provides art educators with the most resources for constructing meaningful connections to learning and inquiry across the curriculum.

Designed specifically to help students make choices, think about what they have created, and explore how they might work in the future, this program helps students see themselves as part of the learning and artistic process.

Big Ideas and Essential Questions

Each unit is organized around a Big Idea and an Essential Question. For example: "Alone and Together: How do people share their lives with one another?" These Big Ideas engage students in exploring the relevance of art in their own lives and the lives of people across time and place.

Process-Based Studios

By learning a process that emphasizes the importance of thinking, planning, and reflection, students go beyond "make and take." Process-based studios help students learn process-based thinking as it relates to art, design, and other areas of the curriculum.

STEAM Lessons and Connections

Each unit includes STEAM lessons developed by a team of experts. These engaging lessons include student exploration of STEAM concepts through viewing, discussing, and creating artworks. Combine these lessons with the STEAM Art Cards for group work and exploration.

Emphasis on Inquiry

As students create their own artworks and respond to artworks made by others, they investigate ideas and construct meaningful connections to learning and inquiry across the curriculum, including STEAM, literacy, and connections across the arts.

View the National Visual Arts Standards correlations at DavisArt.com/Standards.

Student Big Book, Kindergarten.

Experience the delight of discovering materials, developing skills, and inventing new ways to create alongside your students. Each lesson of this child-centered, carefully structured program provides classroom-tested approaches to early encounters with materials and processes as well as effective classroom management techniques.

Big Book

- Carefully chosen works of fine art and photographs of the world around us to help spark children's interest.
- Simple text to introduce concepts.
- Clearly illustrated Studio Explorations to help children discover their own creativity.
- Large size (16 x 20") to facilitate full-class or small-group instruction.

Big Book, Unit 3: Explore Found Materials, Lesson 1: Collect Found Materials.

Teacher Edition, Unit 3: Explore Found Materials, Lesson 1: Collect Found Materials, Notice, Display, Organize.

Teacher Edition

- Includes point-of-use teaching support to reinforce techniques, offer background, or remind children of expectations.
- Gets you ready to teach with materials lists, vocabulary, age-appropriate objectives, and setup suggestions.
- Offers ongoing assessment suggestions and scoring rubrics.
- Provides tips for making each lesson more successful, manageable, and enjoyable.
- Takes you step-by-step through the lesson: engaging students at the start, suggesting questions and comments to promote idea-sharing, pointing out potential challenges, and more.
- Suggests variations and extensions to lengthen or deepen instruction.
- Includes illustrations and photographs of classroom situations and children's artwork.

Student Book, Grade 2.

Student content for grades 1-6 includes six units organized around a Big Idea that is relevant to students' lives and fosters meaningful connections to artworks across time and place, as well as an Essential Question designed to promote student inquiry, reflection, and exploration.

- Brilliant fine art images that enlarge to 300% in the digital edition.
- 54 studios with stellar examples of student artwork.
- Elements and principles embedded throughout each unit ensure continual application and understanding.
- Art criticism that focuses on response and reflection.
- Artist biographies.
- Helpful technique illustrations.
- Student Handbook with examples of elements and principles.
- Flexible formats to facilitate 1:1 use or small-group and full-class instruction.
- And much more!

Student Book, Grade 2, Unit 5: Work and Play.

Students begin to experience the theme and concepts of the unit right from the introduction by viewing and discussing two artworks by the same artist. Each introduction includes a brief biography of the artist.

Student Book, Grade 2, Unit 5: Work and Play, STEAM: Focus on Engineering.

STEAM Lessons

A comprehensive STEAM lesson is included in each unit. Students explore the importance of science, technology, engineering, and math in creating artworks. Focusing on a contemporary artwork, lessons prompt discussion, analysis, exploration, and reflection. These images are also available as STEAM Art Cards (see ancillaries on page 8).

Teacher Edition

Teacher Edition, Grade 2.

Teacher content includes a wealth of support designed to help teachers easily customize and adapt lessons and Studio Experience.

Features

Give students meaningful artmaking experiences that underscore the relevance of art in their lives and reveal the important role it plays in cultures around the world. Experience Art provides art educators with the most flexibility possible. But that doesn't mean isolated learning activities! Designed specifically to create rich and deep interconnections, this program builds students' knowledge, skills, and learner agency as they express ideas and feelings through art.

Theme-Based Learning

Unit themes such as Messages and Identity foster active inquiry and offer opportunities for natural connections across the curriculum. Elements and principles, skills and techniques, and forms and media are presented as tools to help students interpret artists' ideas and express their own ideas through art.

Essential Questions

Content organized around Essential Questions puts students on a path of inquiry that matters. These questions encourage students to explore Big Ideas that unite all people around the world and across time. Essential Questions in each unit provide students with opportunities to connect what they learn to the real world where they can put it to use.

Process-Based Studios

A wide range of dynamic studio activities focus on issues and ideas important to middle-schoolers. By learning a process that emphasizes the importance of thinking, planning, and reflection in creating original artworks, students move beyond isolated learning activities. Process-based studios foster divergent outcomes that create personal connections.

Choice

Students are empowered to take ownership in their learning and become active participants in the creative process. Lessons and Choice Center activities throughout Experience Art build critical thinking skills as students make choices about what they create using contemporary and traditional approaches to artmaking.

View the National Visual Arts Standards correlations at DavisArt.com/Standards.

FIFTH EDITION By Joseph A. Gatto, Albert W. Porter, and Jack Selleck

NEW EDITION COMING IN SPRING 2027!

Bring the language of art and design to life with Exploring Visual Design! In the brand-new 5th edition, students will discover how the elements of art and principles of design shape the images, objects, and visual experiences they encounter every day. Through hands-on making, thoughtful discussion, and engaging visual examples, students build the confidence to think creatively, communicate visually, and develop their own artistic voice. Designed to support meaningful learning for every student, this program provides educators with:

Comprehensive, Standards-Aligned Curriculum

Organized into twelve engaging chapters, each centered on an element of art or principle of design, Exploring Visual Design guides students from foundational concepts to creative application. Real-world connections, design challenges, and accessible instruction help strengthen visual literacy, critical thinking, and artistic confidence.

Rich Visual and Contemporary Connections

Students explore a dynamic range of fine art, contemporary design, and real-world imagery that sparks curiosity and conversation. By comparing historic and contemporary works, students deepen cultural understanding, connect concepts to the world around them, and discover inspiration from diverse creative voices.

Hands-on, Student-Centered Artmaking

Studio projects, collaborative discussions, and creative explorations invite students to learn by doing. As they experiment with materials, reflect on their ideas, and create original works, students build problem-solving skills, develop their artistic voice, and grow meaningful portfolios of work.

Built-In Teacher Support and Differentiation

Flexible teaching tools and embedded supports help educators confidently engage all learners. Annotated guidance, pacing support, materials lists, vocabulary resources including Spanish terms, and differentiation strategies make it easy to lead dynamic discussions and studio experiences that support every student's success.

Series Editor Marilyn Stewart

Transform education research into practical classroom strategies.

The Art Education in Practice Series is the single most comprehensive source for superior content in teacher education and professional development. Each contributor to this series is a nationally known expert on theory and practice in art education.

Reframing Assessment in Art Education

Leslie Gates. Transform the way you think about assessment in the art room. This new title helps educators move beyond grading to create meaningful, student-centered assessment practices that support creativity, reflection, and artistic growth. Grounded in authentic studio practice and the realities of today's classrooms, this essential resource explores key topics including power, student agency, collaboration, subjectivity, teacher expertise, and the growing culture of assessment-as-accountability in schools.

Discover practical strategies for evaluating creative thinking, artistic process, and conceptual understanding along with flexible tools for meaningful feedback, equitable grading, reflection, and standards-aligned instruction that engages today's learners while honoring individual voice and creativity. 220 pages, digital.

Ethical Decision-Making in Art Education

Christina Bain. Art education training typically covers many practical facets of the job—classroom management, writing a lesson plan, demonstrating how to slip and score a clay pot—but rarely does it comprehensively address the many ethical challenges art teachers may face. Teachers are expected to adhere to a professional code of ethics, yet limited preservice and/or inservice training specifically addresses how to make these types of decisions. How do art educators learn to make effective ethical decisions, especially when teaching encompasses diverse and often ambiguous situations? This title explores how art educators learn to make effective ethical decisions, especially when teaching encompasses diverse and often ambiguous situations. 152 pages, softcover.

Therapeutic Approaches in Art Education

Lisa Kay. Working with students who have experienced adversity and trauma can be challenging. This title is a practical guide for those who wish to support therapeutic art making in their practice. Discover trauma-informed approaches that can be applied to a typical classroom setting—urban, rural, or suburban—and address marginalized populations. While you will not become an art therapist, this book will help you gain a better understanding of art therapy and how to support your students in thoughtful, holistic ways. 186 pages, softcover.

Artmaking, Play, and Meaning Making

Sydney R. Walker. While play is typically associated with young children, the idea of play as an instrument of thinking can be applied to all students. Framing artmaking with play as two forces pulling in opposite directions (like order and chaos) can expose hidden ideas. In this impactful new book, the author draws from contemporary artists and classroom artmaking to demonstrate how play works to evoke diverse thought and challenges students to move beyond traditional artmaking. Discover examples illustrating disruption through play and how experiences can be designed for the classroom. 210 pages, softcover.

Race and Art Education

Amelia M. Kraeche and Joni B. Acuff.

"Understanding the complexities of race, especially as it relates to educating students of all backgrounds is crucial. We need strategies and a succinct vocabulary that helps us speak frankly about how race guides our work, from curriculum to classroom management." With a focus on classroom practice, this book addresses issues of race in an accessible style. It provides a well-informed introduction to essential concepts for engaging race and includes units of instruction and practical suggestions for doing so in a constructive, equity-oriented manner. 212 pages, softcover.

This title provides strategies that make learning meaningful, exciting, and accessible.

There are suggestions for how to foster community in the art room by empowering students in a variety of ways, including building choice into the process, content, and product in your lessons. 221 pages, softcover.

Thinking through Aesthetics

Marilyn G. Stewart. Grounded in both theory and classroom practice, this resource explores aesthetic theories, inquiry-based learning, and strategies for leading philosophical dialogue in the art room. Filled with philosophical questions, lesson ideas, and instructional resources, it helps educators create meaningful, discussion-rich experiences that strengthen critical thinking, interpretation, communication, and creative understanding. Includes support for curriculum planning, lesson development, and inquiry-driven activities across all grade levels.. 128 pages, softcover.

Rethinking Curriculum in Art

Marilyn G. Stewart & Sydney R. Walker.

Research shows that thematic teaching across the curriculum significantly increases student engagement. This book gives concrete examples of how teachers can enhance their current lessons by organizing them around meaningful, universal themes such as identity and relationships. Step-by-step guidelines for selecting content and organizing art instruction, as well as charts to guide curriculum planning are included. 162 pages, softcover.

Engaging Visual Culture

Karen Keifer-Boyd and Jane Maitland-Gholson.

A guidebook for teachers to help students make sense of the pervasive flow of visual information shaping their worldview and way of being. By gaining an understanding of the presence and power of visual culture, students are empowered to participate actively in constructing their own meanings. Reproducible handouts and worksheets include practical strategies for teaching each chapter. 162 pages, softcover.

Community Art in Action

Kristin Congdon. This resource shows how art education programs can be expanded to address community-based and cultural traditions. The text explains how art and aesthetic choices are at the heart of communities and discusses how community practices are associated with the natural and built environment, recreational activities, and ethnic traditions. Activities for involving students in their local community are included. 121 pages, softcover.

Teaching Meaning in Artmaking

Sydney R. Walker. Built on a constructivist philosophy of learning, this book explores ways of fostering inquiry and discovery in the studio classroom. The works of contemporary artists are used to help explain the role of Big Ideas and personal connections in artmaking. Tips on designing meaningful studio instruction and problem-solving strategies, and questions and practical strategies on "unpacking" the artmaking process are included. 160 pages, softcover.

Using the Art Museum

Denise L. Stone. How can the museum be incorporated into the school curriculum? The author highlights examples of exemplary programs that engage students in meaningful ways and provides practical ideas for making your local art museum an exceptional education resource. Reproducible worksheets and checklists for planning your museum trips are included. 130 pages, softcover.

Teaching Digital Color: RGB/CMY Color Wheel

NEW!

PRINT POSTER + DIGITAL GUIDE

By Petronio Bendito

Traditionally, students learn how to create colors by mixing pigments from the primary colors (red, yellow, and blue). But now, digital media provides new approaches; today artists and designers work with colors created by mixing red, green, and blue light from computer, tablet, and cellphone screens.

Teaching Digital Color provides a framework for teaching today's most foundational color concepts. Ensure that students' work on-screen is based on their understanding of digital color as opposed to intuition or trial and error.

Designed to engage learners, this program features a full-size (18 x 24") poster that paves the way for exploring digital color. You will receive comprehensive support materials and innovative approaches in a digital teacher guide that offers:

- Video instruction to visualize important concepts, such as color mixing, formulas, and the digital color spectrum.
- Practical activities and tutorials for immediate use in lesson plans.
- Detailed explanations of RGB, CMYK, and HSB color systems.
- Instruction to increase color literacy for a better understanding of the expanded color model.
- Guidance for selecting and mixing colors in digital environments for use in media arts and design.

From Paint to Pixels

Analogue and Digital Color Processes

Historically, art educators have focused on teaching how to create colors by mixing colored pigments (Fig. 2), in which red, yellow, and blue are the primary colors. However, media arts education provides a new approach because artists and designers are working with colors digitally created by mixing red, green, and blue light sources in the RGB environment, such as the screens of desktop computers (Fig. 3a), laptops, tablets (Fig. 2), and even on cellphones.

Paint is a medium that stores colored pigments. When light hits the paint, it reflects the colors of the pigment. But on computer screens, for example, colors are emitted by a microscopic grid of red, green, and blue (RGB) light sources called pixels (Fig. 2b and Fig. 3b). To show colored objects on the screens, RGB light sources shine at various intensity levels to produce other colors. This principle is demonstrated in this guide with hands-on tutorials on how to mix red, green, and blue lights. It is also the basis for understanding color perception and how color is created for media arts applications.

Computer technology introduced new ways of working with color, which can be created using a digital color mixer, the input of a color notation (RGB, CMYK, HSB, Neutrosomal, 1), and computer algorithms. However, the most common way for selecting colors on digital displays is from a color picker—a Graphical User Interface (GUI) (Fig. 2b)—which is a visual system that organizes and displays colors for “intuitive” color selection. However, the notion of picking colors “intuitively” must be carefully questioned in the context of art education. Learners will benefit from a knowledge-based approach to color selection instead of relying solely on intuition and trial and error.

This guide provides a framework for teaching young learners some of the most foundational color concepts of the digital age so their interaction with color on the computer screen is empowered by knowledge. 2D and 3D digital color models, such as the RGB/CMY digital color wheel, the RGB cube, and the HSB color cylinder, provide the background for understanding the digital color spectrum, color picking, and digital color mixing.

Engaging with Public Art

DIGITAL

Introducing a brand-new way to immerse students in the world of contemporary art.

While students may struggle to relate to historical art periods and styles, showcasing artists of today can inspire them and help form connections to important contemporary concepts such as empowerment, empathy, and integrity. With innovative ideas, styles, techniques, and explorations, this thoughtfully curated selection of images will help students connect to the world we live in.

Engaging with Public Art highlights the art form recognized as street art. Displayed in public places, buildings, streets, and publicly viewed surfaces, street art has become a worldwide phenomenon. Organizations and institutions from a variety of industries use street art to promote their mission to a younger demographic, while communities around the world use it to connect local residents with meaningful and relevant ideas in their communities. Using this set of thoughtfully curated images, you can engage students in small groups or full-class discussions or independent exploration of the artists, art practices, or artworks. Explore the elements and principles with your students in a new and exciting way. Support their curiosity and inquiry while they learn to observe the world around them in deeper and more meaningful ways.

Available digitally, this set includes:

- 35 images highlighting contemporary mural artists.
- Connections to elements and principles.
- Detailed information about each artist and artwork.
- Big Ideas and Essential Questions that foster engagement.
- Informative Teacher Guide with Discuss, Explore, and Create prompts to extend learning opportunities.
- Key vocabulary and timelines.
- Support for student exploration of contemporary art.

Bringing activities like these to the classroom offers students tools to enhance their creative process and encourage them to be open to their emotional life. Imagine a classroom where all students feel safe to simply show up, be present to all facets of their amazing and growing beings, and respond through creative and mindful practices. 148 pages, softcover.

Adaptive Art: Deconstructing Disability in the Art Classroom

Bette Naughton. Grades K-12. A collection of tools and strategies to help art educators create adaptations for students with special needs. This practical resource will enable you to engage students of all abilities in the creative process. Includes a variety of instructional methods to adapt art activities, media, tools, and techniques. 146 pages, softcover, print/digital.

Rules for Making Artists Poster

Text by Melissa Purtee. Imagine the world your students can make with their creativity. Remind them every class with our Making Artists poster, 18 x 24." Based on the book Making Artists by Melissa Purtee and Ian Sands, this is the perfect piece to adorn your walls and show your students that art opens a world of opportunity for them!

Collaborative Tape Art: The PiktoTape Method

Michael Townsend and Leah Smith. Grades K-12. This fun, practical resource gives educators the tools they need to lead their communities in producing one-of-a-kind murals. 98 pages, hardback, spiral-bound, softcover.

Discussions4Learning

Support Academic Vocabulary Development and Oral Language Skills with Art

Barbara Place. The most effective way to build student vocabulary is to give your students frequent oral language experiences. Engage learners of all abilities in academically productive discussions of fine art and real-world images. By using the carefully crafted sequential scripts, you can fully engage students and accelerate their vocabulary, comprehension, and oral expression.

Discussions4Learning builds overall vocabulary knowledge by repeatedly exposing students to advanced academic vocabulary in a variety of contexts, which prepares them to comprehend increasingly challenging cross-curricular vocabulary.

Each level includes:

- Teaching support for each theme in the program.
- Program Guide.
- 96 fine art and real-world images used in the lessons.

EARLY CHILDHOOD / ELEMENTARY

Beautiful Stuff: Learning with Found Materials

Cathy Weisman Topal and Lella Gandini.
Grades PreK-2. Help nurture children's creativity through experimentation, reflection, and exploration. Includes activities for collecting, categorizing, and sorting found materials, and creating a mini studio in the classroom. 107 pages, softcover.

Beautiful Stuff from Nature: More Learning with Found Materials

Cathy Weisman Topal and Lella Gandini.
Grades PreK-5. Through their explorations, collections, creations, displays, and stories, children discover the beauty and variety of their own natural worlds. Principles of the Reggio Emilia approach guide the explorations and documentations. 127 pages, softcover.

Documenting Children's Meaning: Engaging in Design and Creativity with Children and Families

Jason Avery, Karyn Callaghan, and Carol Anne Wien. Foreword by Lella Gandini.
Grades PreK-5. Through photographs and reflections, we see children, families, and teachers engage in constructing relationships through their work with materials, emergent concepts, and sustained play. 190 pages, softcover.

Children and Painting

Cathy Weisman Topal.
Grades PreK-5. Various strategies are presented for teaching the basic painting concepts and techniques, from an elements and principles orientation to thematic approaches. This valuable teachers tool overcomes your difficulties in exposing children to the wonders of painting. 102 pages, hardcover.

Insights and Inspirations from Reggio Emilia

Edited by Lella Gandini, Susan Etheredge, and Lynn Hill. Grades PreK-5. This narrative in word and image represents the voices of teachers, scholars, and policymakers whose professional philosophies and practices have been changed by their encounters with the philosophy and practices of Reggio Emilia, Italy. 224 pages, softcover.

SchoolArts Collection: Early Childhood

Grades PreK-2. Engaging and inspiring ideas for early childhood students. Discover lessons based on foundations common to the Reggio-Emilia approach and choice-based and play-based art education that reflect an exploratory approach to encountering artist's tools, materials, and ways of working emphasizing discovery. 137 pages, softcover, print/digital.

ELEMENTARY / MIDDLE SCHOOL

Teaching Children to Draw

Marjorie Wilson and Brent Wilson.
Grades K-8. This version classifies the artworks children make into three categories: drawing on their own, teacher-initiated playful and game-like drawing activities, and adults and children drawing together. 186 pages, softcover.

SchoolArts Collection: STEAM

Grades 2-8. Guide student inquiry and build critical thinking skills with STEAM—the meaningful integration of science, technology, engineering, art, and math. In each of these lessons, STEAM is made more powerful by the interdisciplinary and engaging nature of art. 139 pages, softcover, print/digital.

Resource Books

MIDDLE SCHOOL / HIGH SCHOOL

Fashion Fundamentals

Robin VandeZande, Terese Giobbia, Marjorie Wachowiak, and Gretchen Kaine.

Grades 6–12. Immerse students in problem-solving and innovative thinking with fashion design. Covering methods and approaches to teaching fashion, this title also includes cultural and personal influences, fashion history, and foundations. Lesson activities guide students through the process of developing original ideas using the creative process. 146 pages, softcover.

SchoolArts Collection: Media Arts

Grades 6–12. Media Arts constantly changes! Has that kept you from including it in your program, or have you fully incorporated it? In either case, this book is a must-have resource. It provides inspiration, ideas, and insight to bring digital processes and new technologies into your classroom. Learn from experienced educators specializing in new media and technology as they share best practices and lessons for students at all levels, beginner to advanced. 141 pages, softcover, print/digital.

The Open Art Room

Melissa Purtee and Ian Sands. Grades 6–12.

The first book to present a framework for choice-based instruction for secondary-level art education. This hands-on resource takes inspiration from a variety of contemporary teaching methods and has a full range of lesson plans, from modified to full-choice solutions, all based on artistic behaviors. 217 pages, softcover, print/digital.

From Ordinary to Extraordinary

Ken Vieth. Grades 6–12. The teacher resource that emphasizes visual problem solving, creative thinking, and cooperative learning. Ideal for incorporating stimulating studio experiences into the curriculum! This book encourages higher-level thinking and includes projects that explore the subjects of self, family, and community. 148 pages, softcover.

HIGH SCHOOL

SchoolArts Collection: Contemporary Art

Grades 9–12. The diversity in expression and countless cultural and social influences behind contemporary art make it a perfect mechanism to provide increasingly diverse student bodies with a broad range of artistic expression. Organized into chapters on "Identity," "Social and Emotional Issues," and "Collaboration," this title provides lessons based on concepts and essential questions that encourage students to learn about, respond to, and create contemporary art. 137 pages, softcover, print/digital.

Making Artists

Melissa Purtee and Ian Sands. Grades 9–12. A comprehensive look at how and why a student-directed classroom is essential for the development of the student artist. Making Artists picks up where The Open Art Room leaves off, covering issues and situations choice-based art teachers encounter as they design their program. Discover tested methods for working through situations such as room design, material handling, student ideation, and assessment, along with a new set of unit and lesson plans. 247 pages, softcover, print/digital.

The Complete Metalsmith, Revised Edition

Tim McCreight. Grades 9–12. Since its publication in 1982, The Complete Metalsmith has become a standard reference for jewelers and metalsmiths. Detailed explanations and up-to-date information on more than 125 techniques make this the authoritative shop guide for experienced metalworkers, and the single source of practical technical information for all. 198 pages, spiral-bound, softcover.

Engaging the Adolescent Mind Through Visual Problem Solving

Ken Vieth. Grades 9–12. Engage students through visual problem-solving with thought-provoking studio experiences designed to encourage personal expression. Each studio includes objectives, a technical challenge, and reflection opportunities. 148 pages, softcover.

Credit Card/Purchase Card Orders

Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, and School Purchase Cards are accepted for all orders less than $10,000. Due to heightened credit card security measures, credit card information must be complete and accurate. The 3-digit (4-digit AMEX) security code must be included. The Bill To address must be your credit card billing address. Credit card payments for orders of $5,000 or more will be charged a 3% processing fee.

School Orders

School orders will be accepted on official school purchase orders, school letterhead, or by attaching a purchase order to the order form on page 44. All orders must be signed by an authorized individual.

Individual Orders

Orders can be placed by mail, phone, fax, or online. See order form on page 44. Your order must be prepaid with a check, Visa, MasterCard, Discover, or American Express. Online orders accept credit cards only. Applicable sales tax will be added to all orders.

Sales Tax

Please provide an exemption certificate with your order if you are exempt from sales and use taxes. Failure to submit an exemption certificate may result in additional tax charges on your invoice. All other customers, add sales tax per state requirements and local tax where applicable.

Shipping and Handling

Orders over $100.00 add 10% of your total order. Orders under $100.00 add $10.00 for shipping and handling. For international orders, call for specific shipping and handling rates. All of our shipping materials are recyclable. Order discrepancies must be reported within 15 days of receipt of order. Due to extended shipping times dictated by FedEx and the USPS, we cannot guarantee specific delivery dates.

Davis Digital Class Sets

Digital Class Sets are available as a subscription; options include 2-, 4-, 6-, or 8-year licenses with access to the Davis Art Images library. Information about accessing your account on DavisArtSpace.com will be emailed to you once your order is processed.

Digital Images Subscription

The Davis Art Images library is available as a subscription; options include 4-, 6-, or 8-year licenses. If you purchase a Digital Class Set, the images subscription is included in your purchase. Once your order is processed, information about accessing your account on Davis Digital will be emailed to you.

SchoolArts Digital Magazine

SchoolArts magazine is exclusively digital. Check out the digital platform at SchoolArts.com. New content will be released nine times per year, August to May. Back issues are accessible on the platform with more being added each month. Use promo code SACF26 to purchase a one-year digital subscription for only $29.95. Regular one-year digital subscription is $34.95.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

You have 30 days from receipt to examine any materials you purchase. If not completely satisfied, please contact our Customer Support department to obtain the required return authorization. Items must not be stamped or otherwise marked and must be returned in saleable condition. Shrink-wrapped items must be returned unopened to receive credit, unless defective. Please state specific damage to materials or other reason for return. Sales to bookstores are not eligible for over-stock returns. Please request our policy for additional information.

Prices

All prices are effective until August 31, 2027, and are subject to change without notice. The prices listed in this catalog are school discount prices and do not include applicable sales tax or shipping and handling charges.

Customer Support Inquiries

For any questions or assistance you may need regarding billing, delivery, adjustments, product availability, or product information, call our Customer Support department, Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm EST at 800-533-2847, ext. 2.

Adoptions
